Alumni of educational programs abroad often have the broad perspective and initiative required to make positive contributions upon their return home. The YES Alumni Grants Program will give alumni the opportunity to initiate social, economic, and community development projects of their own design in their home countries.

Grants will fall into two categories:

Individual Grants (up to $250)

To support community service or professional development projects. Individual grant applicants who demonstrate in their proposals a readiness to share their experience with others in their community upon completion will be given preference. These may be single events or small-scale projects.

Group Grants (up to $3000):

To support community service projects in areas such as interfaith dialogue, conflict resolution, entrepreneurship, public health, environment, inclusion of people with disabilities, women's and girls' empowerment, and promotion of English language and American culture. Not all project organizers or volunteers must be YES or YES Abroad alumni, but the grant applicant/recipient and the project leader or co-leader must be an alumnus/a.

American Councils may request that applicants modify their budget or the proposal in order to be awarded a grant. Proposals may be awarded partial funding.

Deadline

The deadline for the grant application submission is Monday 11 Feb 2019 5:00 PM U.S. Eastern Time.

Eligibility

In order to participate in this program, applicants:

1. Must be successful participants of the YES or YES Abroad program;
2. Must conduct their project and currently reside in one of the countries in which the YES program or YES Abroad is administered (including the U.S.);

Selection Process and Grant Requirements

Application Deadline: Monday 11 Feb 2019 5:00 PM U.S. Eastern Time

Selection Process

Competition for the program is merit-based and objective. Selection will be based upon the following criteria:

1. Objectives

- Does the project contribute to the social, economic, and/or community development of the applicant's home country? -OR-
- Does the project contribute to the professional or personal development of the alumnus/a?

2. Constituency

- Does the applicant demonstrate the need for this project among the constituency it is intended to serve?
- Does the project benefit people from differing ethnic, religious, social, professional, and/or age groups?

3. Feasibility

- Is the proposal financially well thought-out?
- Does the proposal include cost sharing? Are partner organizations or local businesses/organizations involved in conducting the project?
- Are potential obstacles addressed?
- Can the project be accomplished within the expected time frame?
- If the project involves activities that extend beyond the grant period or establishes an organization with a permanent structure, what are the plans for sustaining future activities?
- Are there letters of support from cost share sources? From participating individuals or organizations?

4. Results

- How realistic are the proposal's expectations?
- What criteria will the alumnus/a use to evaluate the project? How will both qualitative and quantitative assessments be gathered?
- How will results be shared with others?

Evaluators will review completed proposals submitted by alumni who meet the eligibility requirements. Special consideration will be given to those proposals that include cost sharing or in-kind contributions as well as those that focus on rural or underserved areas or populations.

Applicants will be notified in June 2019 if they will be selected to further develop their proposal by refining the project and budget towards final approval.

Financial Terms of the Grant

As part of the application, grant recipients must provide a budget and budget narrative that accurately reflects the proposed costs of the project. Requests for changes to the budget after proposal submission must be submitted in writing to American Councils for approval. Grant funds are usually transferred to the YES office in your country, but they may be transferred to the grantee's personal U.S. dollar bank account under special circumstances.

All grant activities must be completed and funds spent by September 30, 2020. Grant funds will be made available in two installments: 80% at the start of the project and the remaining 20% upon completion of final grant reporting and accounting.

Recipient Responsibilities

Grant recipients must submit interim and final reports as well as articles, photos, and other documentation as requested by American Councils. Grantees must provide scanned receipts for all expenses paid for by grant funds dispersed to them. Due dates for submission of interim and final reports will be dependent on length of the project and the date of project completion. Grant winners will be notified individually of reporting schedules.

All final reports must be submitted no later than one month after the project is completed.

Any materials published through projects funded by the YES Alumni Grants Program must be included in the final report and should carry an acknowledgment similar to the following wording:

Support for this publication/conference/workshop was provided in part by the YES Alumni Grants Program, which is funded by the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA) of the United States Department of State and administered by the American Councils for International Education: ACTR/ACCELS. The opinions expressed herein are the author's own and do not necessarily express the views of either ECA or American Councils for International Education.

Failure to follow these regulations may result in a request to the grantee to return grant funds or disqualification from receiving U.S. Government-sponsored grants in the future.

Here is an example:

"I will lead a group of seven YES alumni to design and develop a three-day summer camp for 120 children ages 6 to 12. I have experience working with kids as I volunteer in my old elementary school as a tutor. The target participants are children from underprivileged neighborhoods around the capital city of my country, some of whom are homeless and some who have had to drop out of school. They have few opportunities to learn while having fun, and they generally do not have interactions with children who are from different religions or ethnic backgrounds. The camp would be an opportunity to play while learning, using games and activities that develop confidence, communication skills, and learning about others who are different from them through cooperation. I have developed a detailed curriculum (see attached document) based on my experience and with the help of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), who will partner with us on this project by providing materials and offering experienced resources for the camp. The budget requested is $1980 and the ICRC will provide $200 in in-kind donations."

Project Social Media Plan

The YES Alumni Grants Program would not be possible without the support of our funders, the U.S. Department of State Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs. To continue to receive funding for this program, it is essential that we demonstrate the impact and reach the program has. There's no better way to show what great projects the grants program supports and to reach a wide audience than through social media.

Using the table below, please demonstrate your social media plan for the project. What will you post, where will you post it, and when? Consider posts that detail milestones in the various phases of your project, such as during planning, implementation, and analysis.

Project Budget

Please include a project budget, separating any administrative costs (such as speaker salaries, room rental, equipment rental, communications charges, etc.) from direct program costs. Applicants may add categories and expense items as necessary. Please remember to include bank transfer commissions, fees, and applicable taxes in your budget.

Prohibited Expenses and Expenses Requiring Justification

Please note the following items that cannot be funded through this grant program and items that require justification:

Prohibited Items	Computers, electronics, alumni salaries, alcohol
Items Requiring Strong Justification*	T-shirts, bags, banners, promotional materials, construction materials (including paint), durable equipment/furniture

The guidelines for the "Items requiring strong justification" are as follows:

1. In total, items in this category may make up no more than 30% of the total project budget.*
2. The need for these items MUST be clearly and strongly justified in the project proposal and budget. In order to be considered "strongly justified," the items must:
 - a. Bring significant and immediate results to the community or to the beneficiary group; or
 - b. Promote the YES program in a positive way (e.g., a large-scale project with a high number of attendees where the program's role is clearly visible).

*Budgets that exceed this 30% cap may be considered on a case-by-case basis IF the applicant contacts Jeni St John at yesalumni@americancouncils.org to discuss his/her project with ample time before the application due date.

In-kind Contributions and Project Support as Cost Sharing:

Some donors - people, groups, or businesses - may feel more comfortable donating something other than money. When someone volunteers to give you a service, supplies, or free help, you're receiving in-kind support (also known as cost share). In-kind support should not be seen as a second best to money, but as an equally important part of the resource pool available to your group. You can look for in-kind support within your own group's members and your local community.

Types of in-kind support that can be included in the budget as cost sharing:

- GOODS: equipment, furniture, space (including maintenance and utilities), refreshments that people bring to your regular meetings
- PEOPLE: staffing, professionals who volunteer to participate in your group
- SERVICES: construction and renovation, printing facilities, public relations, promotional activities

Download a Sample Project Budget

Tips for alumni:

- Cost share is an important part of a strong application. It demonstrates your project has support from your local community.
- A letter of support must be included for all cost share sources.
- Budgets in which alumni show creativity in terms of budget reduction are more likely to receive funding. (Example: making first aid kit for $10 instead of buying a $40 first aid kit from the Red Cross.)
- Alumni need to clearly explain the sustainability of durable materials which require justification. Who will take care of it? How will it be sustained/cleaned/protected?
- Remember to include bank transfer commissions, fees, and applicable taxes in your budget.

Total Expenditures

1)
Total grant funding requested (USD) $

2)
Total cost share contribution (USD) $

3)
Total project cost (USD) (add entries 1 and 2 above) $

4)

Please explain your budget in a narrative (sentences and paragraphs).

Example: $500 of grant funds will be spent for transporting the participants to the camp on two buses. $140 will be spent on stipends for expert speakers. This project will require a total of $640 of grant funding, with $300 in cost share donated by the bus company.
